Women's Network Australia (WNA) brings together a collective group of empowered women, empowering women. Our members come from a vast range of professions and business backgrounds, such as government, travel, advertising, real estate, business development, retail, fitness and well being, just to name a few. We are passionate about making a difference and being the voice for other women in business. We are committed to supporting the achievement of business owners, from start up, senior business leaders and successful women in business.

Any material published in the various mediums, is a reflection of core values, vision and purpose, and are of a high quality. If you are passionate about communicating on the subject you love, get involved and get published - a great outlet to share your interest, your distinctive voice and your enthusiasm. You can publish, share and influence - what could be more meaningful to your business than that!

WNA MEMBER BLOG

If you would like to be a regular Blog Contributor, please read the minimum requirements below:

- Once approved as an official WNA Blog Contributor you will be required to submit and commit to a minimum of one a month. This assists with the planning and scheduling of WNA Blog posts.
 - Blog post received must remain on track for the two subjects you have been allocated to blog on.
 - Each blog post you submit has a word limit - minimum 300 words and maximum of 450 words.
 - You must keep your WNA business listing and profile current. This includes your image, website and contact details that appear alongside each of your blogs that are published (important that it is current).
 - Your blog posts must be an ORIGINAL. Submitting already published blogs / articles is not acceptable, as this affects our SEO and rating.
 - You must ensure that every blog post you submit has been thoroughly proofread for spelling and grammatical errors. This includes any website links.
 - You must agree to the WNA team editing all blog posts received from you if required, to ensure the content is consistent with the WNA Blog style.
- Remember to encourage readers to engage with your post by asking a question at the end of your posts.
 - Carefully consider the introduction to your blog. It should only be 1-2 sentences as teaser text to entice readers to open and read your blog. This appears once published as the lead in to your blog.
 - You can use your website or personal blog within your blog post - note that readers can access your website via the link in the 'About the Contributor' information (on the right hand side of published blog posts).
 - Please include links within your blog post for additional online resources that you mention in your blog.
